The eagerly awaited addition of my 2011 Fall camping photos from our Annual camping extravaganza have been added to the site! You will find most of them under the landscapes page, but this year I have started adding lighthouse pictures under the Buildings section so be sure to take a look at those as well. Doug is working on his 2011 multimedia project for our trip, and when he gets that done I will post it up here with his permission. You can find last year's presentation way down at the bottom by clicking on the special tab - it will open up a section where I moved some stuff off the front page. Enjoy the photos!
